Why Monero?

Private

Unlike Bitcoin, or any of the other top coins which make all transactions public, Monero transactions are inherently private and untraceable by default.

Secure

Through the use of advanced cryptographic techniques, the receipt of payments is secure and unalterable.

Accepted

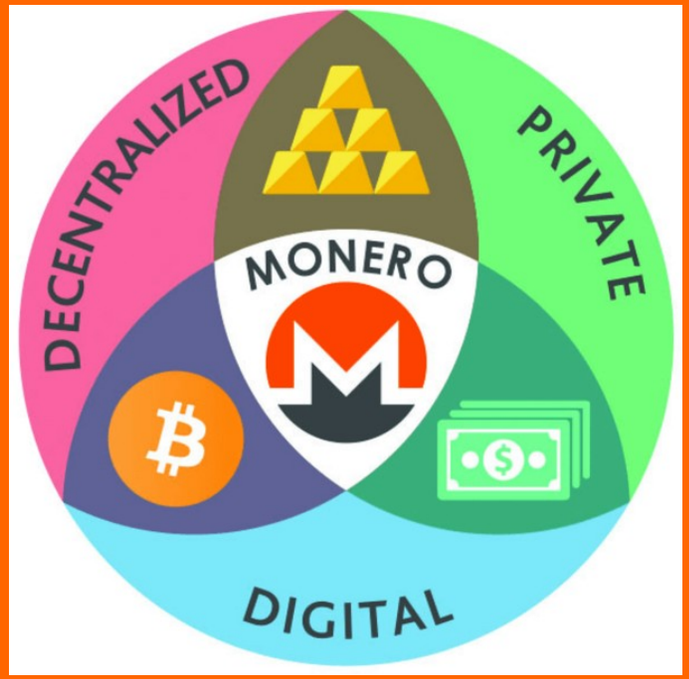

Send payments to anyone locally or worldwide without expensive fees or waiting times. Monero is the most used cryptocurrency for private digital-cash transactions.

Decentralized

Anyone can mine Monero using a computer to process transactions. This is why Monero is a community currency that is not issued, manipulated or controlled by a central authority.

Fungible

Each unit of Monero is exactly the same as another because there is no history that shows where it was used, and by whom.

Separate Money and State

“We can't take money violently out of the hands of government, all we can do is by some sly roundabout way, introduce something that they can't stop.”

- Friedrich A. Hayek

"...soon be developed, is a reliable e-cash, a method whereby on the internet you can transfer funds... the way in which I can take a $20 bill and hand it over to you, with no record of where it came from."

- Milton Friedman
